The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Tax Relief is Temporary

The family paycheck looks a little sicker due to an increase in social security deductions which started with the first pay period of the year.

Tax planners refer to the increase as a "few pennies" but no mention is made of the increase in percentages.

To be explicit, they added 33 cents to the $2.60 paid by those making $50 a week; added 65 cents to the $5.20 at $100 a week and 97 cents to the $7.80 for those with a gross income of $150 a week.

To make the increase understandable, it is 15%. This compares to a hoped-for 3% increase in the cost-of-living index, beyond which Washington gets excited. But not one there seemed alarmed at a "routine" increase of 15% in social security taxes.

Nearly every administration has increased Social Security taxes simply because they are taking more out of it than we are putting in. This might be proper if the funds were used only for the purpose social security was originally conceived. Now it supports more programs—and with a staff that has grown out of proportion.

No one at the tax-levying level seems to believe that a nation's financial structure is much like that of a family unit. When a family overspends, a belt-tightening period follows. This truism is not followed in government. When it overspends, it calls on the family unit to take off some more fat —if any is left. Government agencies will not consider cutting the fat out of their own operation, though.

Instead, the increases are made more acceptable by referring to higher benefits to beneficiaries.

Of many of the programs that cost more and provide less, Social Security is probably the least culpable. A new one is the property tax relief program designed to ease the burden of millions of California homeowners — at least temporarily.

The homeowner will benefit starting this year when his exemption will be increased from $750 to $1,750. Even the renter will share in the windfall. He'll get a tax credit of $25-$45.

There is something for the schools, too. Since property has been the base for school income, it was important to allocate something to them. $561 million was earmarked for local schools. $332 million goes to increased program support and $299 million allows low-wealth district to reduce their higher-than-average property tax rates.

So far, so good. Except, where is the money coming from?

From you, of course.

Beginning in June sales tax will be increased one cent on the dollar. They don't put it this way but it is a 20% hike. Bank and corporation taxes will be raised 1.4% in July. Since the base here is variable, there is no way of figuring a flat-out cost from the figures released by the Assembly.

But it does give a figure of $450 million which is the additional sum needed to balance the program. This, it is explained, will come from the current budget surplus and from revenue-sharing funds from the federal government to the states.

There is no proposal at present to increase the state income tax.

But it should be noted that much of the surplus from which property taxpayers are to be aided is not a recurring surplus. There will come a day, probably next year, when property tax relief will have to be abandoned or income taxes increased. An income tax increase was already on its way early last year to give additional aid to schools and to ease the property tax burden. But an election-year revenue-sharing idea was developed. It may be four years before there is another cake cutting.

Completely overlooked in this "first, the good news—" report is the "welfare" programs. There is evidence that the welfare spending spiral, under that designation, is leveling off. Some "welfare" has surfaced under other headings having to do with underprivileged, minorities, health and housing. But it is welfare just the same.

A sound piece of advice is to enjoy it while you can, because somebody is going to have to pick up the tab eventually.

That somebody is you.

Nutrition Plan Study OK'd By Trustees

The Lemon Grove School District Board of Trustees announced an upcoming board member election, approved a study of a proposed senior citizen nutrition program, and authorized an agreement which would help form a "league of federally aided school districts".

Trustees, in their regular meeting Tuesday night, announced that a board member election will be held April 17 for three seats on the board.

Candidates must file with the registrar of voters no later than February 16. Those who wish to run must be at least 18 years old and a registered voter of the district.

Seats up for election are those held by Leonard Klee, Warren Buckner and Bert Cosby. Klee announced Tuesday night that he plans to seek re-election, but Cosby and Buckner indicated that they have not yet made decisions whether to run again.

A good portion of the meeting was spent discussing a proposed senior citizen nutrition program which would call for the local district to supply cooking facilities and possibly dining area facilities for senior citizens of the area, who would be fed a hot meal five days each week.

The program would be funded by a federal grant on a 90%-10% basis. with the grant supplying 90% of the costs. The 10% would be supplied locally by the use of facilities, volunteer work and possibly a minimum fee, which would be voluntary from those receiving the meals.

The feasibility of both a

Accidents Down In L.G. Area ART Reports

The accident rate in Lemon Grove is decreasing and two California Highway Patrol programs helped make it so.

At least that is what the evidence shows.

For example: there were 72 accidents in the Lemon Grove area in December, 1971. In 1972 there were 26½ per cent fewer — only 53.

The area involved is all of Lemon Grove excepting the freeway, according to CHPatrolman Bob Barrett.

The two programs that helped were Accident Reduction Team (ART) and the Holiday Accident Reduction Program (HARP) Barrett is a member of the ART operation.

ART has been in operation in Lemon Grove since the first of September and the team's responsibility is to analyze, report and take action on accident producing situations. A four-man team is assigned to the area and they partol all streets except Broadway, Imperial, Skyline and Massachusetts. In the area of ART patrol, December accidents were reduced 30 per cent — from 30 in December 1971 to 20 in the same period 1972.

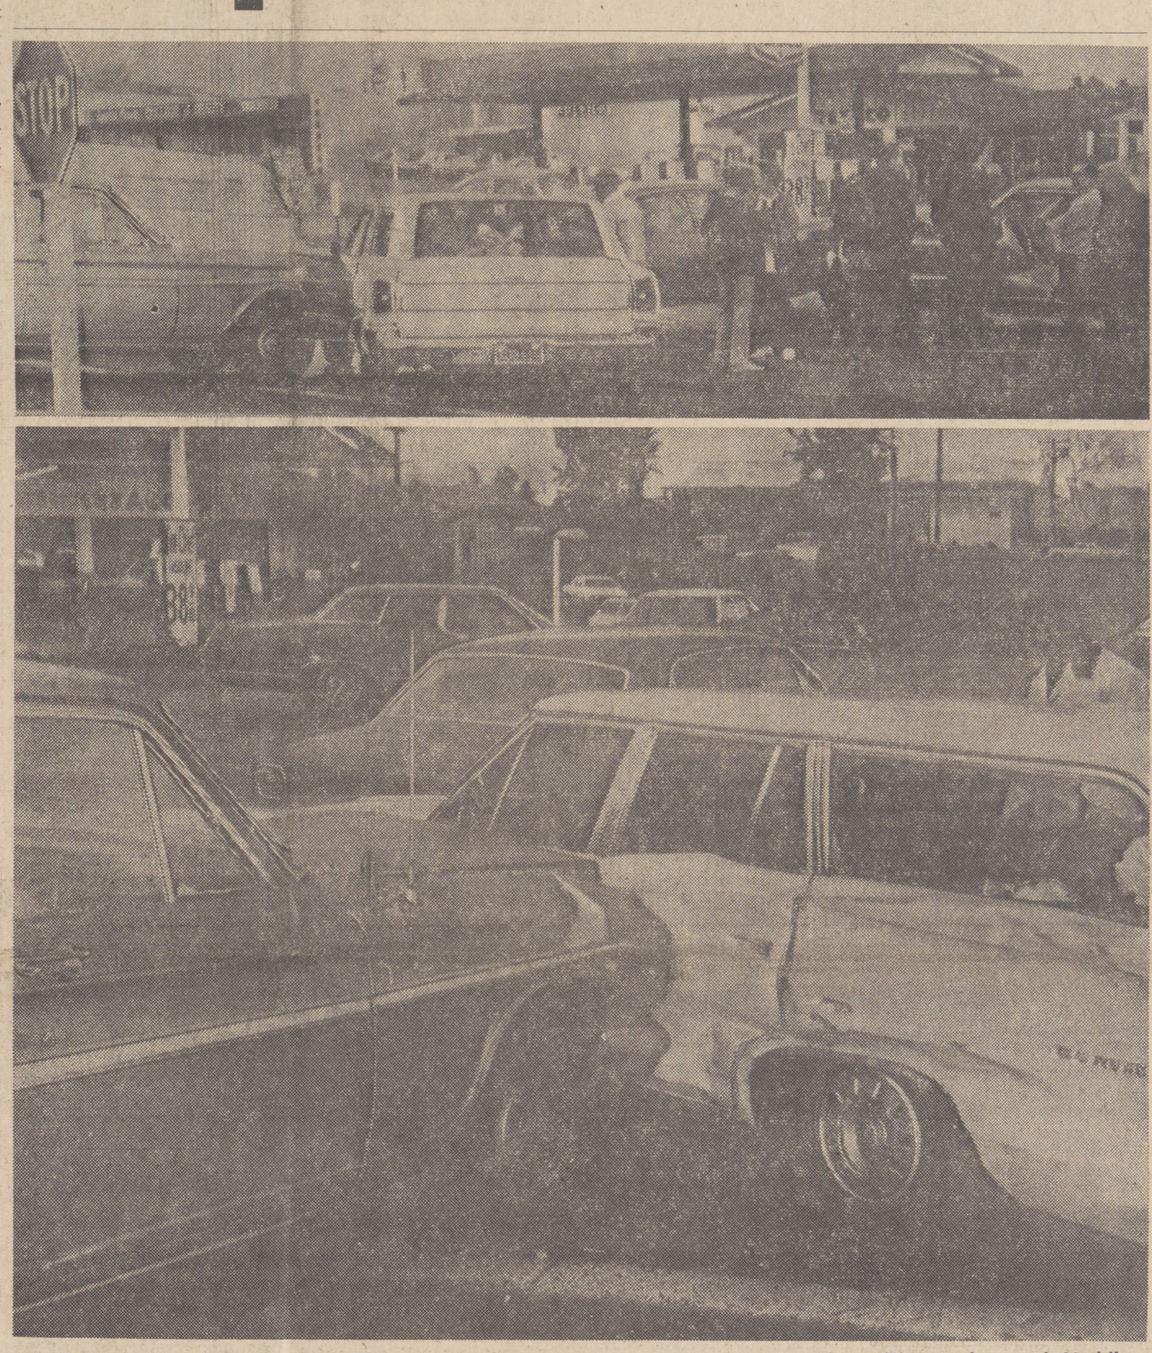
ART's record is part of the overall HARP's record.

HARP was funded by the State and consisted of about 85% of CHP's personnel on an around-the-clock alert during the holidays all over the State. The emphasis was on drunk driving. The program was effective in San Diego as hotels did a land-office business for those who celebrated and stayed over rather than to risk arrests.

A record number of drunk driving arrests was made, it was reported — 703, up from 517 in 1971.

Other effort of the accident reduction team is bicycle safety in which "law-breaking" young cyclist are "cited". A court, operated by local high school students, and a bicycle-safety school are parts of the penalty phase, Barrett noted.

Support Mounting For Proposed 6 Acre Park



FIVE CAR PILEUP — The flow of traffic on Imperial ave. in Lemon Grove was interrupted for a while last Thursday afternoon when five cars exchanged paint at the intersection of Imperial ave. and Central. According to reports from the California Highway Patrol, the accident occurred when a car driven by Nat Nuddleman, 79, of 7116 San Miguel ave., Lemon Grove, pulled out onto Imperial from the stop sign at Central, failing to yield to a car driven by Gene R. Newman, 22, of San Diego, who struck Nuddleman's car. Nuddleman's car then spun on the rain-slickened pavement and struck a car which was stopped for the stop sign at Central, which is turn traveled backwards, striking a fourth car, which in turn struck a fifth car. Two persons sustained minor injuries, but nobody was seriously hurt.

LAFCO Hearing Monday

Support is mounting in Lemon Grove for the establishment of a county service area which would provide matching funds for a proposed six-acre park at Mount Vernon and Massachusetts.

Under the terms of a Department of Housing and Urban Development grant, the community must come up with funds on a matching basis to purchase the site and develop the park, and a county service area has been suggested as the best way to provide the funds.

Before the service area can go into effect, however, it must first be approved by the Local Agency Formation Commission and the County Board of Supervisors.

A hearing on the proposal has been scheduled for Monday at 9:30 a.m. in room 358 of the County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, where LAFCO will consider the service area.

LAFCO earlier considered the measure in December, but the hearing was continued until this month because of an apparent lack of support for the plan.

LAFCO staff then attended a meeting of the Lemon Grove Planning Association, which was poorly attended. Those on hand at that meeting expressed some support for the project, but not quite what was expected.

LAFCO staff was to attend tonight's meeting, but last week it was announced that no representative would be on hand. At the meeting, however, it is expected that some support will be organized and that a planning association representative will be appointed to voice support at Monday's hearing.

In addition to support by the planning association, the project also has been lauded by the Broadway Heights Community Council and the Lemon Grove School District.

Major support has also been offered by the community betterment committee, and

Against Valhalla Plan

Petitions Given To High School Board

Petitions bearing the signatures of over 750 teachers of the Grossmont Union High School District were presented to the district board of trustees Monday night at a regular meeting.

The petitions, circulated among teachers by Grossmont Education Association president Earle Wenbourne, requested trustees to abandon plans to construct Valhalla High School, the district's proposed ninth school, from tax money.

Instead, the petitions sought a bond issue to finance the controversial school which will — if constructed — ease overcrowded conditions at Mt. Miguel and Monte Vista High Schools, where students attend on double sessions.

Wenbourne, in addressing trustees, said that the teachers "have repeatedly stated that their action should not be interpreted as a vote against building Valhalla or any other additional schools, but rather against the method of funding."

The board countered, claiming that the petition was misleading and that anyone would have signed the statement the way it was worded.

Superintendent Austin Sellery alleged that communication with the faculty through the GEA had been misleading to the teachers and indicated that the representatives have not been conveying the facts to the teachers.

The petitions claimed that financing Valhalla through tax money would cause cutbacks in educational programs and decreased or vanishing salary increases for teachers.

Trustees, although not budging in their determination to construct the school through tax dollars, said that no cutbacks in programs would result from the funding method.

The meeting was also attended by representatives of the Associated Student Bodies Executive Council, made up of representatives from each of the district's eight schools.

President of the council Bruce Walton, who is also president of the ASB at El

School Board Eyes Meetings At Schools

The La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Board of Trustees may be meeting in new locations if discussions at last week's meeting are a good indication of the future for the district.

Trustee Melvin Nunn suggested to other members of the board that every other meeting be held at one of the district's schools, enabling the board to have better contact with parents of students as well as principals of the schools.

He would also like informal sessions with the school principals, who would be able to present summaries of school activities.

Although board members took no official action, they agreed that the plan is worth a try and instructed the administration to prepare a plan, including how the schools would be selected, what rotation basis would be best, and how arrangements could be made for a custodian to clean up and set up for the meetings.

Trustees expressed concerns over the custodial problem as well as the possibility of poor attendance at such "floating" meetings.

The plan offered by the administration will be presented at Tuesday night's meeting.

Sears, Roebuck Retail Unit To be Opened in Spring Valley

The Spring Valley branch of Sears, Roebuck and Co., El Cajon, has been scheduled for opening on Monday, February 5, it was announced by W. C. Lorhmoeller, general manager for Sears in San Diego County.

In announcing the opening date of the unit, located at 641 Sweetwater rd., Lochmoeller said the store will have a gross area of approximately 6,000 square feet, 4,000 of which will be used to the display of home appliances and other merchandise items.

Featured will be many lines of Sears' major appliances, including ranges, washers, dryers, refrigerators, television, stereos, radios, water heaters, compactors, garbage disposals, and dishwashers. Also carried will be vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, fencing, roofing, and special "seasonal" items selected to appeal to Spring Valley customers. In addition, an Allstate center will be located in this unit.

The remaining space will be devoted to a Catalog Department, where customers may browse through an extensive catalog "library". This library is made up of the big 1,600-page General Catalog, published for Fall-Winter and Spring-Summer each year; seasonal catalogs that come out at Christmastime, Midwinter, Spring, and Summer; sale tabloids that appear each month; and a host of "special" catalogs that deal with specific lines of merchandise.

"With over 150,000 items available through our catalogs, this new Sears unit will be the biggest little store in the community," Lochmoeller said.

Catalog orders will be rushed via teletype transmission to Sears' huge plant in Los Angeles. These orders will be filled the same day received and rushed by express truck to the store for pick-up within 48 hours. Customers can arrange to have the merchandise sent directly to their homes, if preferred.

"Our decision to locate here reflects our desire to serve better our Spring Valley customers and to be part of the continuing growth of the area," Lochmoeller said. "We are confident that this new store will attracte new customers here and will be a distinct asset to the entire business community."

Walsh Chairs Sups

SAN DIEGO (CNA) — Supervisor Jack Walsh was selected as chairman of the Board of Supervisors for the year 1973.

Newly seated supervisor Lou Conde who defeated Harry Scheidle was selected as vice chairman.

Conde was sworn in on Monday also as was Dick Brown who won the seat vacated by Henry Boney.

The position of chairman is largely ceremonial. He gets the same salary as the other board members and has the same vote as the others — one out of five.

He does run the meetings and represents the county at official and civic ceremonies.

'Courtesy Week' Set By L.G. Rotary Club

Next week will be Lemon Grove Courtesy Week, sponsored by the Rotary Club in conjunction with the California Highway Patrol.

During the week, Highway Patrolmen in the area will seek out the most courteous male and female drivers, while several Rotary Anns will select the most courteous male and female clerks. Additionally, the Lemon Grove School District will hold a poster contest for seventh and eighth grade students.

Winners will be honored at a luncheon sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Annual Winter Concert On Tap

Grossmont College's Department of Music will present its Annual Winter Concert at 8 p.m., Saturday, in the Student Center. The concert will feature the Concert Band. College-Community Orchestra, Concert Choir, Chamber Chorale and the Granite Hills High School combined choirs.

The College Concert Band, with Charles MacLeod conducting, will open the concert with "Passacaglia and Fugue in C minor," by Bach and the 1st and 4th movements of "Symphony No. 9 from the New World," by Dvorak. The program will continue with Dr. Robert Emile conducting the College-Community Orchestra as they perform the "Lord Nelson Mass" by Franz Joseph Havdn. David Glismann will direct the vocal groups for the Lord Nelson Mass. The orchestra will close the program with Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 5 (Reformation).

The public is invited and there is no charge for admission.

BIBLE STUDY — Lowell R. Haislup, Watchtower Bible & Tract Society's visiting representative, will climax two special weeks of Bible instruction for the Lemon Grove congregations of Jehovah's witnesses, Sunday.
Haislup's visit is for the purpose of assisting local witnesses in their evangelizing work in the community as well as sharing scriptural counsel with fellow witnesses. The two Lemon Grove congregations are a part of a circuit of over 20 congregations in California and Arizona that Haislup visits semi-annually.
The Bible discourse will be given at the Kingdom Hall of Jehovah's witnesses, 9605 Jamacha blvd., 2:00 p.m. Sunday. The public is welcome.

Learn Spanish The Easy Way

Hardison's Telespanish

By JAMES HARDISON

"Pregunta" is one way to say "question" in Spanish. This may be used in phrases like "Que es la pregunta?" (What is the question?), "Es una buena pregunta." (It is a good question.), and "No entiendo la pregunta." (I do not understand the question.).

"Hacer una pregunta" literally means "to make a question," but is translated idiomatically as "to ask a question." Thus we may say "Voy a hacer una pregunta." (I am going to ask a question.) and "No se como hacer una pregunta." (I don't know how to ask a question.).

"Preguntar" is the infinitive form which is the same as "to ask" in English. We may use this in phrases like "No me gusta preguntar." (I don't like to ask.) and "El nunca va a preguntar." (He is never going to ask.). Another example of the use of "preguntar" is seen in "Vamos a preguntar." (We are going to ask.).

"Pedir" is occasionally confused with "preguntar." "Pedir" usually expresses "to ask for" as when one asks for permission or when one might request a favor as opposed to "preguntar" which is used primarily "to ask" a question. This distinction may be clarified somewhat in the phrases "El tiene que pedir permiso." (He has to ask for permission.) and "Es tiempo de pedir ayuda." (Ite is time to ask for help.).

"Pedido" is a derivative of "pedir" and means "request," "order," or "shipment." This may occur in phrases like "Es un pedido muy grande." (It is a large order.) and "Aqui esta el pedido." (Here is the shipment.).

Variations of "preguntar" (to question), "pregunta" (a question) and "pedido" (order) are presented in the practice phrases below. You may enjoy saying them with the phonetic guide or the native speaker on 276-2762.

IMPORTANT PHRASES:

Say "Es una pregunta interesante." (ehs OO-nah preh-GOON-tah een-teh-reh-SAHN-teh) for "It is an interesting question."

Say "Son muchas preguntas." (sohn MOO-chas preh-GOON-tahs.) for "There are many questions."

Say "Que es la pregunta?" (keh ehs lah preh-GOON-tah) for "What is the question?"

Say "Es un pedido grande." (ehs oon peh-THEE-tho GRAHN-deh) for "It is a large order."

Say "Voy a preguntar." (VOH-ee ah preh-goon-TAHR) for "I am going to ask."

Newsmen On Panel For 'Preview '73'

Four editors and correspondents of the Christian Science Monitor will address a public affairs meeting in San Diego tonight at 8.

The meeting will be in the Golden Hall, Community Concourse, and is open to the public without charge.

The team of writers from Boston will be headed by Editor John Hughes, a Pulitzer Prize winner for international reporting. He recently returned from a three week tour of China.

The program will include brief talks by the writers, after which the meeting will be opened to questions from the audience. The meeting is called "Preview '73; The Christian Science Monitor looks at where we are and where we are going."

A member of the panel, Geoffrey Godsell, the Monitor's overseas editor, has just returned from a reporting tour of the Middle East crisis area.

Completing the panel will be Courtney Sheldon, chief of the Monitor's 10-man Washington bureau, and Curtis Sittomer of Los Angeles, Western news bureau chief. Sheldon, who also covers the White House, was one of the correspondents accompanying President Nixon to China.

Gospel Music Slated

An evening of gospel and sacred music will be offered tomorrow night by the Bartlesville Wesleyan College Choir at 7:30 p.m. at Skyline Wesleyan Church.

Bartlesville College is a recently established institution in Oklahoma.

In other Skyline news, the annual meeting of the California Wesleyan Men will be hosted by the Lemon Grove Church during the evening of next Friday and all day Saturday.

Congress Goes Electronic

No longer will the House of Representatives depend on hand-counting roll call votes. The system, dating back to 1789, is being replaced with an electronic system.

BLOOD CLINIC — Gwen Baker, right, chairman of a Grossmont Hospital Auxiliary blood clinic project, and Helen Bodine, president of the auxiliary, sign up hospital employees who volunteer to give blood at a blood donor station in the hospital auditorium. Two sessions were planned by the auxiliary, with the first held Tuesday for hospital employees. A second session will be January 23 from 3 to 6 p.m. for all residents of the Heartland area. Donations may be credited to a loved one or a member of the community, or nobody in particular. No reservations are necessary, Mrs. Baker said.

China Painters' Show Planned

A convention and show of the California Federation of China Painters will be held February 23-24 in the Convention Center of El Cortez hotel.

President is a former Lemon Grove businesswoman, Vera Chaffee who now lives in La Mesa.

The organization is comprised of those who hand-paint china.

Flowers of the Royal Highway is the show's theme. A special display of hand-painted "Gone With the Wind" lamps will be a feature.

During the show demonstrations in painting will be made by outstanding teachers. Painted and plain china will be available during the convention. Door prizes will be given daily.

The convention opens at 10 each of the two mornings. It closes at 6 p.m. Feb. 23 and 5 p.m. Feb. 24.

A pre-show dinner will be held for members and guests Feb. 22 and new officers will be installed at a banquet after the Feb. 23 show closes.

Grossmont Offers New Legal Secretary Class

Grossmont College has added a new class, Legal Secretarial Procedures, which will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m.

The course is a part of a group of courses designed to prepare students for positions as legal secretaries, legal clerks, and legal office assistants.

The course will cover the presentation of common legal documents, the procedures followed in the handling of such documents, a review of the most common methods of recordkeeping in legal offices, and other related matters.

It is recommended that students have some shorthand skill in order to gain maximum benefit from the course. However, students with no shorthand skill will be accepted as long as they have typing proficiency.

It is important that prospective students make application at the Admissions Office at Grossmont College by January 19. The Admissions Office will be open daily from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. and until 4 p.m. Fridays. Classes will begin the week of February 5.

Call Karen Seal at 465-1700 extension 428 for further details.

VLM Christian Church Marks 25th Anniversary

The Vista La Mesa Christian church will mark its 25th anniversary Sunday with a day-long series of events, it was announced by the Rev. Ronald E. Nowlin, pastor.

Dr. Russell Hensley, who founded the church now at 4210 Massachusetts ave., will speak at the 10:30 a.m. worship hour. Dr. Hensley is the State Minister of the Christian church in Oregon.

Others guests include Dr. Charles Malotee, Regional Pastor of Southern California Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ); Ray Wellington, head of the Churchman's Foundation; the Reverends Don Jones, Richard Davis and Julian Stuart, all former pastors of the church.

There will be a fellowship hour at 5; a potluck dinner at 5:45 and a program highlighting the history of the Vista La Mesa Christian church at 7 p.m.

Charter members and former ministers will be introduced and pictures of the early days will be shown.

The public is invited.

Student Flight Tops Study Of Transportation

As part of the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District's federally funded Career Education Project, 30 youngsters from La Presa Elementary School put the finishing touches on a four-week study unit by flying to Los Angeles.

Sixth grade students in Joan McGoldrick's class Tuesday flew to Los Angeles and back via PSA jet and interviewed and photographed airline employees, preparing a slide program of the experience.

Parents of students footed the cost of tickets for the trip, with students unable to pay supported by money the students earned during fund raising activities previously. Two parents also took the trip.

The purpose of the experience was to learn about career opportunities in the transportation industry, which students had been studying prior to the trip.

Transportation to and from the airport was provided by the Career Education Project funds.

The Career Education Project, at La Presa Junior High School, Mt. Miguel High School and surrounding elementary schools, is the only program of its kind in San Diego County.

Under the program, federal funds are utilized in extracurricular and regular courses to enhance career development in local schools.

Post Plans Skate Party

Explorer Post No. 168, sponsored by St. John of the Cross Church in Lemon Grove, will participate in a roller skating party along with other posts in the East County Tuesday night at Skyline Rollarena.

The party, open to all Explorers in the county, will be from 7 to 10 p.m., according to Gene Sprofera, of Post 168, who indicated that admission is $1 and skate rental is 50 cents.

In other post news, Sprofera said, a donation has been scheduled by members of the post of used recreational equipment for the San Diego Kiwanis Club's project on Soloman Island. The equipment will be used to supply a recently erected community center which will be used for recreational and educational activities.

Also, the post is currently making plans for it's annual trip down the Colorado River via canoe, which will take place February 2 through February 4.

The Explorers will leave the post hut at St. John's Friday night and return Sunday after the 40-mile trip down the river. Starting and finishing points have yet to be determined.

Whittaker Corporation Reports 1972 Earnings

Whittaker Corporation last week announced its audited year-end results for the fiscal year ended October 31, 1972. Sales for the year amounted to $576,445,000 as compared with $523,238,000 in 1971.

Income from continuing operations amounted to $13,851,000 or 62 cents per share as compared with $15,104,000 or 68 cents per share in 1971. Net income amounted to $7,040,000 or 29 cents per share as compared with $5,781,000 or 23 cents per share in 1971.

All 1971 data has been restated in accordance with the various Accounting Principles Board opinions regarding discontinued businesses and other adjustments.

Coolest months in Puerto Rico are January and February.

Dear Editor:

This will help clear any misconceptions which may result from a recent article concerning the Lemon Grove Youth Center program.

Insufficient funds have been at the root of operating difficulties, but it should be acknowledged that we have received strong local support. The Lemon Grove Kiwanis Club has been generous and continuation of the program last year was possible primarily because of it. Also came country friends, the LG Soroptimists, the LG Review and individuals.

The County of San Diego has made an effort to support our program. Youth Center rent has been only $28 a month.

The Youth Center Assn. has been working closely with a student social work unit in support of their local program, and with the youth director of the Economic Opportunity Commission in preparing a grant application to support reorganization and reopening of the Youth Center.

Karen Thomson,
Treasurer
Lemon Grove Youth Center Assn.

Dear Editor,

Once again the United Crusade has succeeded in raising a substantial amount over last year, and the largest amount ever in a San Diego County campaign. Our percent of increase is well over the national average percent for cities raising comparable amounts.

And once again there were a number of obstacles which could be overcome only by effective communication of our community's needs to those who could help meet those needs. That is where you were so helpful: in relaying the campaign story to your readers through the columns of this newspaper.

Your cooperation is helping to create the climate in which our volunteers could do their job is deeply appreciated by all of us who have been involved in the 1972 Crusade. For them — and for all of those whose lives will be better because of the programs of our agencies, please accept my heartfelt thanks.

Yours very truly,

FUND RAISER FOR CAMPFIRE GIRLS — Debbie (9) and Dottie (11) Thorson, standing, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ormon Thorson, of 1962 El Paso, Lemon Grove, and Robin Schmitt, (9) daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schmitt, Sr., 1860 Ensenada st., Lemon Grove,show the goal of the San Diego Council of Camp Fire Girls' annual sale. When the Council meets its goal, 162,000 boxes of mint cream sticks and butter toffee peanuts will have been sold. Laid end-to-end, the boxes would reach from the Mexican border to Torrey Pine golf course near La Jolla.

Child Psychiatrist To Speak At Camp Fire Girls Annual Dinner

Child psychiatrist Dr. Thomas Johnson will discuss "To Know And Prove That I Am a Worthwhile Person in a Worthwhile World" at the San Diego County Council of Camp Fire Girls annual dinner meeting tomorrow at Vacation Village.

Johnson's subject is one of the Council's goals for 1973. A Council Evaluation Committee, chaired by Mrs. Melville W. Aubery, has proposed the 1973 goals and determined that acceptance of self is most important for girl members. The implementation of this goal will include use of new national programs for Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls and mass participation in the "Spirit of '76" project. The '76 Project is a program which began in January 1972 and continues through July 4, 1976. It is planned to involved girls in a variety of cultural and civic experiences.

The annual dinner meeting will also include the installation of officers with Assistant San Diego City Manager Ralph E. "Mike" Graham taking the Council presidency for a second term. Dinner chairman Mrs. Fred C. Conrad and awards chairman Mrs. John W. Ackermann are also arranging presentation of national awards to adult member volunteers. Some 35 adult members will receive awards in recognition for their outstanding work in administrative services or in leadership to girls.

A practicing child psychiatrist in San Diego, Dr. Johnson is also a consultant for the San Diego City Schools and served as child psychiatrist for the Navy while on duty in San Diego. He is a graduate of the University of Minnesota Medical School and also practiced at the School of Child Psychiastry at the Meninger Clinic in Topeka, Kansas.

District chairmen serving as hosts and hostesses include Galen E. Craig, of the Heartland District.

'Boypower '76' Program Tops Project 1972 Goal

San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America, topped its Boypower '76 projected goal with a year end enrollment of 33,175 it was announced by Claude C. Blakemore, Council President.

"It is most heartening to note that we are providing a quality program of Cub Scouting, Scouting, and Exploring to more young people in San Diego County than ever before in the history of our Council," said Blakemore in making the announcement.

"Year end membership totals show an enrollment of 15,319 Cubs, 11,807 Scouts, and 5,549 Explorers, in 365 Cub Scout Packs, 417 Scout Troops, and 179 Explorer Posts," Blakemore reported.

William C. Lochmoeller, Chairman of the Membership Committee said the year end enrollment represented a 10% increase over the 1971 enrollment of 30,324. "I am particularly pleased with our increase in Exploring," said Lochmoeller. "These young men and women doubled their membership during 1972."

Blakemore noted that the exceptional membership gains during 1972 could be attributed to the dedicated interest and exceptional service of over 11,000 adult volunteer Scouters.

The B.S.A. Council, which is supported financitlly by the United Community Services and an Annual Sustaining Membership Enrollment, will continue their long range national Boypower '76 program in an effort to enroll a one-third of all available boys in couting by 1976.

"We want one-third of all boys regardless of race, creed, color, or economic status. We made tremendous strides in this area in 1972 and now have more black and Mexican-American boys enrolled in Cubbing, Scouting, and Exploring than ever before," Blakemore said.

The Council will hold its annual meeting and recognition dinner at the Community Concoursec January 20 at which time over 2,500 volunteer Scouters will gather for Southern California's largest pot-luck dinner. Highlight of the program will be the presentation of Silver Fawn awards to ladies and Silver Beaver awards to male Scouters. The awards are the highest that can be bestowed on volunteer leaders by a local Scout Council.

AREA OBITUARIES

Automobile Crash Claims Spring Valley Man's Life

Services were held Wednesday morning in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for John Wesley Scott, 43, of 8330 Stansbury st., Spring Valley, who died January 7 at the scene of an automobile accident in Bonita.

According to reports from the California Highway Patrol, Scott was driving his vehicle eastbound on Sweetwater rd. at an excessive rate of speed when he crossed into the westbound lane, striking another vehicle head-on.

He was pronounced dead at the scene, according to the Coroner's Office, apparently dead of head injuries, at 3:44 p.m.

A native of Mississippi, Scott lived in this area for 16 years and was employed for 15 years as a contract administrator with Rohr. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Survivors include his wife, Theresa; a son, John Wesley Scott, Jr., and a daughter, Barbara Scott, both of the home address; two brothers, Norris R. Scott, of Arizona, and James Scott, of Mississippi; and three sisters, Gladys Griffin and Eva Mae Millirows, both of Mississippi, and Vondell Reith, of Louisiana.

A. R. Williams

Recitation of the Rosary was held Tuesday morning at Greenwood Mortuary for Anne R. Williams, 51, of 6863 Waite dr., Lemon Grove, who died January 7 at her residence.

Interment for the native of Chicago, Illinois, was in Greenwood Memorial Park. Mrs. Williams lived in this area for 27 years.

Survivors include her husband Eugene C. Williams; a son, Robert L. Williams, of San Diego; a daughter, Rose A. Green, of San Diego; three stepsons, Duayne, Cecil, and Gordon Williams, all of San Diego; two sisters, Miss Helen Calabsa and Mrs. Rose Schumacher, both of Chicago; a brother, Emil Calabsa, of Ramona; and 11 grandchildren.

R. P. Roberts

Services were Wednesday afternoon in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Robert P. Roberts, 68, of 7629 Jamacha rd., who died January 8 at Villa View Hospital.

A native of Columbia, Missouri, Roberts lived in this area for 25 years and was employed as an assembler with Rohr Aircraft for 20 years. Interment was in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

He is survived by his widow, Alicia; a daughter, Ruth Grindstaff, of Long Beach; three sisters, of Missouri; and six grandchildren.

C. A. Brorson

Services were held last Thursday afternoon at Lewis Colonial Mortuary for Carl A. Brorson, 89, of 1325 Kempton st., Spring Valley, who died January 1.

Brorson, a native of Sweden, came to the United States in 1912 and moved to this area in 1923, when he went to work as a planer and estimator for Glasson Planing Mill. In 1936, he became a general contractor, forming the Carl A. Brorson Company, which operated in California and Arizona until he retired in 1959.

Active in community affairs, he was a member of the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, the San Diego Yacht Club, the San Diego Country Club, the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the American Association of General Contractors, the Swedish Engineers Society of New York, the San Diego Businessmen's Association, and the First Covenant Church of San Diego.

Survivors include two sons, including Carl O. Brorson, of San Diego; six grandchildren; a brother, and one sister.

Entombment was in Greenwood Mausoleum.

C. L. Welbanks

Graveside services were held Wednesday afternoon at Hillside Memorial Park in Redlands, California, under the direction of Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary for Carrie L. Welbanks, 89, of 7405 Roosevelt ave., Lemon Grove, who died January 6 at Grossmont Hospital.

A native of Canada, Mrs. Welbanks lived in this area for 15 years.

Survivors include four grandchildren, Nancy Hickman, of San Diego; Donna M. Treiss, of Alamo, California, Dorothy Hendricks, of Spring Valley, and Diane E. Berger, of Lemon Grove.

L. Willingham

Services were held Monday afternoon in the Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary Chapel for Lawson Willingham, 66, of 7872 North ave., Lemon Grove, who died January 4 at Sharp Memorial Hospital.

Willingham, a native of Oklahoma, lived in this area for 40 years and was employed for 12 years as a machinist with General Astro Division of Convair. The family suggested contributions to the American Cancer Society.

He was a member of the Elks Club of Lemon Grove No. 1812 and of the Lemon Grove Church of Christ. Interment was in Greenwood Memorial Park.

Survivors include his wife, Ruth; a son, John Willingham, of La Mesa; a brother, Charles Willingham, of San Bernardino; and two grandchildren.

'Horse and Buggy' Theme For Drive Of Women Voters

"Horse and Buggy Government" will be the theme of the Grossmont-Cajon Valley League of Women Voters' drive next week, according to league president Dona Foster.

Included among the week's activities will be information booths at Grossmont Center and Parkway Plaza from 10 a.m. and 4 p.m. January 17 and a dramatization the same day between 1 and 3 p.m. when a horse drawn buggy will travel the length of Broadway in El Cajon culminating at Parkway Plaza. The buggy will include girls dressed in old fashioned costumes.

The purpose of the week's drive is to enlighten the public of the status of the District of Columbia, which according to Mrs. Foster, is denied the right of congressional representation and the right of an elected local government.

Petitions will be handed out at the information booths urging Congress to pass a constitutional amendment allowing congressional representation for the District of Columbia. The petitions also ask Congress to grant the right of home rule to the District.

Petitions will also be available at Grossmont College.

Camp Fire Girl Annual Sale Jan. 19-Feb. 4

San Diego County Camp Fire Girl members will hold their annual sale January 19 through February 4. The Council goal is 162,000 boxes of butter toffee peanuts and mint cream sticks — enough boxes to make a path from the Mexican border to Torrey Pines Golf Course or a three-mile high stack, according to sale co-chairman Paul West.

West and his wife, Jill, are co-chairmen of the sale and Mrs. Banyon V. Allen is sale manager. Part of the profits from the nale are used for the which includes maintenance and improvement at Camp Valhilo, a primitive site near Poway, Camp Cahito in Balboa Park and Camp Wolahi, the resident facility in the Cuyamacas.

Adult Camp Fire members serving as district sale chairmen include Mrs. Donald Gunn of the Heartland District.

Tax Institute On Tap At Grossmont College

Grossmont College's Office of Community Services in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, will sponsor a two-day Basic Tax Practitioner Institute January 20 and 27. Both sessions will be conducted in the college's Fine Arts Recital Hall, Room 220, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

This Tax Practitioner Institute will mark the first time that the IRS has cosponsored a tax institute in Southern California, especially designed for tax practitioners, members of their staff and interested individuals who wish to receive detailed instructions in the basic elements of preparing individual income tax returns.

Registration forms for the institute and additional information, may be obtained by contacting the college's Office of Community Services, 465-1700, Ext. 241, between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday. A $7 registration fee will be charged by Grossmont College to defray administrative costs and provide refreshments prior to each session. Free parking will be provided for participants attending the institute.

According to IRS officials, the workshop sessions will be of the building block nature with each presentation built from and relying on the information previously presented. Each topic will be presented only once during the institute; therefore, those who wish to receive all of the instruction offered must be present during both Saturday sessions.

The institute will follow the separate line items on the individual income tax return. Emphasis will be placed on the areas that accounted for the greatest number of discrepancies on the 1971 Federal income tax returns.

The first session scheduled for 9 a.m., January 20 will cover such subjects as sources of tax information, entity section, exemptions, tips and other compensation, dividend or interest income, itemized vs. standard deductions, alimony, work clothes and uniforms, completing review of form 1040 and computing tax — itemized deductions or aggregate gross income over $10,000.

Among the subjects covered during the second session commencing 9 a.m., Saturday, January 27, will be casualty and theft losses, capital gains and losses, retirement income credit, employee's business expense, rental income and expense, depreciation methods, moving expenses and sale of residence.

Criminal Justice Conference Due

A two day conference of juvenile delinquency and the schools will be offered by San Diego State University's Institute of Public and Urban Affairs tomorrow and Saturday.

The conference, which is worth one unit of credit for students studying public administration, will include guest speakers from all facets of the criminal justice system speaking on subjects of their expertise. It will be in the War Memorial Building in Baboa Park.

Incuded among speakers for the sessions will be representatives of the San Diego Police Department, the San Diego County Sheriff's Department, the Los Angeles Times, as well as school administration and probationary personnel.

Registration for the conference begins at 2:30 p.m. tomorrow with the first session underway at 4 p.m., ending at 9:30 p.m. before resuming at 9 a.m. Saturday and running until 4 p.m.

Registration fee is $25 for both days.

Human Potential Series To Open

The opportunity to "expand your horizons and enjoy a richer, more rewarding life" will be presented at 11 a.m. tomorrow in the United Artists Theatre, Parkway Plaza and again at 8 p.m., in the Fine Arts Recital Hall at Grossmont College, when U. S. Anderson speaks on "Rediscovering How to Live."

Anderson has written numerous books and articles on the understanding and stimulus of the human mind and is author of the best selling book "Success Cybernetics." His talk will deal with the balance that existed in all things in previous societies and how our present society has gotten away from leading balanced lives as individuals and as a people.

Anderson believes that diet plays a major role in our feelings about ourselves and others. He is presently engaged in research for a book on psycho-ontology, the science of self-fulfillment.

Anderson's presentation will be followed January 19 by Dr. Richard E. Bellman speaking on "Sex and Automation." Bellman is presently serving under a triple appointment as professor of mathematics, electrical engineering and medicine at the University of Southern California.

The public is invited to attend the series devoted to expanding the human potential. Each program in the series, co-sponsored by the La Mesa Library and Grossmont College, will be presented at 8 p.m., Friday in the Fine Arts Hall at Grossmont College in addition to the morning program at the United Artists Theatre. There is no charge for admission.

RAIN FALLS — Although no reports of serious flooding or power outages were received, a rain storm that brought heavy showers at times Tuesday brought the "Brookside ditch" up to capacity. The week's precipitation, which included a storm last Thursday, brought a total of .99 inches, bringing the season total to 7.57 inches. Last year's total at this time was 4.31 inches. At press time Wednesday, more rain was expected.

Disability Insurance Refunds to be Easier To Collect This Year

It's going to be easier this year for workers to claim refunds of overpayments of Disability Insurance premiums, a state official said last week.

L. A. Bailey, a deputy director of the Department of Human Resources Development, said recent legislation going into effect this year has eliminated the need for direct application to HRD on a special form. Instead, the refund can be claimed in the regular state income tax return in April.

Bailey said thousands of workers each year are involved in claiming such refunds. The State Disability Insurance Program is paid for by workers' premiums and consists of 1 percent of wages up to $8,000 — or a maximum of $80 per worker. However, Bailey said, many workers get involved in overpayments because they changed jobs during the year, earned more than $8,000 and had more than $80 withheld from their paychecks.

Formerly, a worker claiming a refund was obliged to get a claim form from HRD. This year, the form will be included among the State Individual Income Tax Return forms and the amount involved can become part of the total tax overpayment or underpayment, Bailey said.

A few claimants will still have to apply directly to HRD for the refund, Bailey said. Anyone who is not required to file a California income tax return but still wants to claim a refund will have to apply directly to HRD.

Higher Rates Forecast For SDG&E Customers

Higher rates for San Diego Gas and Electric Company customers were forecast this week by Walter A. Zitlau, company president, in a report on the firm's preliminary construction budget of $132.5 million for 1973-74.

USIU's 'Rainmaker' Is Festival Winner

For the second consecutive year, a production of United States International University's School of Performing and Visual Arts has been named a regional winner in the prestigious American College Theatre Festival.

In addition, two of its players were chosen to be participants in the accompanying Festival of Scenes.

SPA's entry, "The Rainmaker," was one of four winners selected from the thirty entrants by the most outstanding universities and colleges in the Pacific South Circuit, which encompasses all of Southern California, Arizona and Nevada. Next they join other regional winners across the country in vying for national honors and the opportunity to perform in the John F. Kennedy Center for the Performing Arts in Washington, D.C. in the spring.

The American College Theatre Festival is a program of the American Theatre Association and is sponsored by American Airlines and American Oil Co. who contribute a total annual budget of $300,000 with the sole purpose of raising the standard of theatre and the training for it and to focus greater public attention on good college and university theatre.

Each of the four Pacific South Circuit winners will stage their production in the regional finals at California State University, Long Beach. The public is invited to attend the performances which will be as follows: "A Comedy of Errors," by Los Angeles City College, Jan. 24; "Kabuki Theatre," by Pomona College, Jan. 25; "The Rainmaker," USIU's School of Performing and Visual Arts, Jan. 26; "The Me Nobody Knows," by Arizona State, Jan. 27. Awards will be announced Jan. 28 at a banquet on the Queen Mary.

The productions, as well as the 48 finalists in the other 12 regions, will be judged and ten national winners will be named to play the Kennedy Center in Washington in the spring.

Last year, USIU's production of "The Roar of the Greasepaint, the Smell of the Crowd," not only was named a regional winner but went on to be a national finalist. The star of the performance, Michael Biers, was also chosen as outstanding actor of the Festival.

This year's entry, the laugh provoking yet tender N. Richard Nash play, "The Rainmaker," tells of a rogue and con-man who captures the heart of a plain but intelligent, sensitive woman. Ronald Arden, Head of Production for SPA, directed the play. Starring roles are played by Bob Hanley and Christine Ann Hulter. Supporting parts are played by Wynn Pearce, Scott Hayden, S. Thomas Mackey, Ralph Meyering, Jr. and John Higdon.

In addition to "The Rainmaker" selection as a winner, two of the SPA actors were nominated to perform in the Festival of Scenes, an adjunct activity sponsored by Irene Ryan, "Granny" of "The Beverly Hillbillies." Christine Ann Hulter and S. Thomas Mackey will compete for the two $500 awards for acting supplied by Miss Ryan.

Census Bureau Survey Being Conducted Here

Families and households in this area are included in a nationwide survey of buying plans and home repairs being taken in January by the Bureau of the Census, according to C. Michael Long, Director of the Bureau's Data Collection Center in Los Angeles.

Bureau interviewers will ask householders about any plans to buy a house, a car, or major household appliances during the next year. Questions about home repairs and alterations will concern those made during the past three months.

The Bureau conducts the survey every three months to serve as a guide to economic growth. A mathematically selected group of households throughout the Nation serves as a measure of what U. S. families expect to buy in the near future.

S.D. Padres 1973 Mini-Season Ticket Campaign Launched

The Padres will have four "mini-season" ticket plans, each designed to satisfy the varied requests of fans and starting at a cost of only $60 now are available for the 1973 season.

The announcement was made at a luncheon that launched the team's pre-season ticket campaign to sell both full-season and mini-season tickets.

The Padres open their fifth National League season April 6 at San Diego Stadium against the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Attending the luncheon were more than seventy-five members of the Padres Action Team, area businessmen and fans who strongly assist the club in selling season tickets.

Last year the Padres tripled the sale of mini-season tickets and boosted full season ticket sales by more than thirty percent, largely because of the efforts of the Padres Action Team. Mayor Pete Wilson, firmly behind a push for greater attendance, said 10,000 mini tickets should be the goal.

Al Harutunian will chairman this year's Padres Action Team with Joe Tagliarino heading the downtown division, Bailey Gallison the beach division and Bill Lochmoeller the inland division.

The mini-season ticket plans:

Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays, 36 dates (one-half the season) at $144 for field seats, $126 for plaza seats and $90 for loge seats.

Wednesdays and Fridays, 24 dates (one-third season); Fridays and Sundays, 24 dates; and Tuesdays and Saturdays, 24 dates at $96 for field seats, $84 for plaza seats and $60 for loge seats.

Full season tickets to all 81 Padre home games are $280 for field and press seats, $250 for plaza seats and $175 for loge seats.

All season ticket plans award the purchaser a bonus ticket to a scheduled game between the Padres and the Cincinnati Reds, National League champions.

Also, each plan carries full exchange privileges, a special feature available only to Padre season customers.

Season tickets may be exchanged for any future game providing the exchange is made at least eight hours prior to the game for which tickets are being held.

And season ticket purchasers may select their own seat for all games.

For further ticket information contact the Padres ticket department at 283-4494.

'Hillers Top Matadors In Hoop Opener

The up-and-down Mt. Miguel Matadors were down Friday night when they met the Grossmont Foothillers in the Mt. Miguel gymnasium to open the Grossmont League basketball season.

The Matadors, who dropped a 57-52 battle to the Hillers, were the victims of an excellent press offered by the opposition, one of two teams the Matadors must beat in order to claim second place in the league this season.

Mark Dobransky, who serves as a barometer for the Matador bucketeers, fouled out in the third quarter after scoring only four points. When Dobransky fails to hit double figures, it's a good bet the Matadors will lose.

And yet, the team was in the game all the way, and even took the lead for a few seconds early in the final stanza before the rally was squelched by turnovers — enabling Grossmont to tally six unanswered points.

Steve Soloman, Dan Topping and Bob Balderas were the only Miguel players to hit double figures, as Topping tallied 13 and Solomon and Balderas canned ten each.

The Matadors were scheduled to play at Granite Hills Tuesday and will be back at home tomorrow night against arch-rival Monte Vista. Monte Vista, expected to battle Grossmont and Mt. Miguel for second place in the league standings, has been hurting from illness but should be ready for the game.

The secret of success against Mt. Miguel has been to stop Dobransky, and the Monarchs will be out to keep the ball away from him. Tipoff is at 8 p.m.

Frazier to Lay Crown On Line Against Foreman

Joe Frazier will defend his world heavyweight championship against undefeated George Foreman, Monday, January 22, at Kingston, Jamaica.

San Diego fight fans will be able to see the 15-round contest on closed circuit color television at the Sports Arena. There will be no home television or radio broadcasts of the fight, the promoter said.

It will be the initial promotion in San Diego for local businessman, Lee Fruin, president of Fruin Financial, Inc., 1400 6th ave., in San Diego.

Lou Lake, impressario of the Coliseum weekly fights, is co-promoter of the closed circuit show.

Frazier will be tested for the first time in nearly two years. Since defeating Muhammad Ali, he has fought only twice: knocking out Terry Daniels in four rounds and stopping Ron Stander in five.

After winning the heavyweight title in the 1964 Olympics, Frazier turned professional and has won all of his 29 fights and scored 25 knockouts. He has been the subject of much second guessing after his win over Ali with speculation mainly aimed at how much damaged he suffered in the brutal battle.

Foreman won the 1968 heavyweight title at the Olympic Games in Mexico City. He gained fame for his display in the ring of a small American flag. Since turning professional, Foreman has won 37 fights; 34 by knockouts.

At 29 years of age, Frazier is five years older than Foreman. The champion will give away 3½ inches in height, 10 pounds on the scales and more importantly, five inches in reach, to Foreman.

Tickets are $8 and $10 available at the Arena box office or for information, call 224-4176.

Toreros Skein Grows

Momentum is the thing as the USD basketball team seeks to continue its own and stop that of two opponents this week.

The Toreros host Northern Arizona University, Friday, and then journey crosstown to tangle with UCSD Saturday. Both games have an 8 p.m. tipoff.

USD has rolled up a five game win skein, topped by a 77-70 victory over a previously unbeaten UC Riverside squad. In turn,, Northern Arizona has never lost to the Toreros, including a 79-73 decision earlier this season at NAU. UCSD, Saturday's foe, has picked off six consecutive wins after opening the campaign with three straight losses.

Two Qualifying Chances For Andy Williams Open

Qualifying procedures for the sixth annual Andy Williams San Diego Open golf tournament on Feb. 15-18 at Torrey Pines golf course have been announced by Norrie West, executive director, and Hal Tebbetts, ournament chairman.

Southern California Section Professional Golf Association pros who are not members of the PGA's Tournament Players Division will have two opportunities to pre-qualify this year as opposed to one last year.

A Southern California Section PGA competition at Lomas Santa Fe Country Club on January 22 will advance 15 pros to the final AWSDO qualifying on Monday, Feb. 12 at North Torrey Pines and Carlton Oaks Country Club courses.

Non-TPD pros will have still another chance to make final qualifying in AWSDO prequalifying on Friday, Feb. 9 at Carlton Oaks Country Club. Amateurs of two handicap or less are also eligible to compete here.

Final qutlifying will also include non-exempt TPD pros and the 25 lowest scorers plus any tying for 25th place in the last PGA Club Professional Championships.

Those who qualify on Monday, Feb. 12 will tee off with exempt TPD pros and others who receive exemptions in the 72-hole Open Championships on Thursday, Feb. 15 at South Torrey Pines course.

Entry application forms and information on qualifying procedures are available through the Andy Williams San Diego Open offices at the Mission Valley Inn, 875 Hotel Circle, San Diego, 92108.

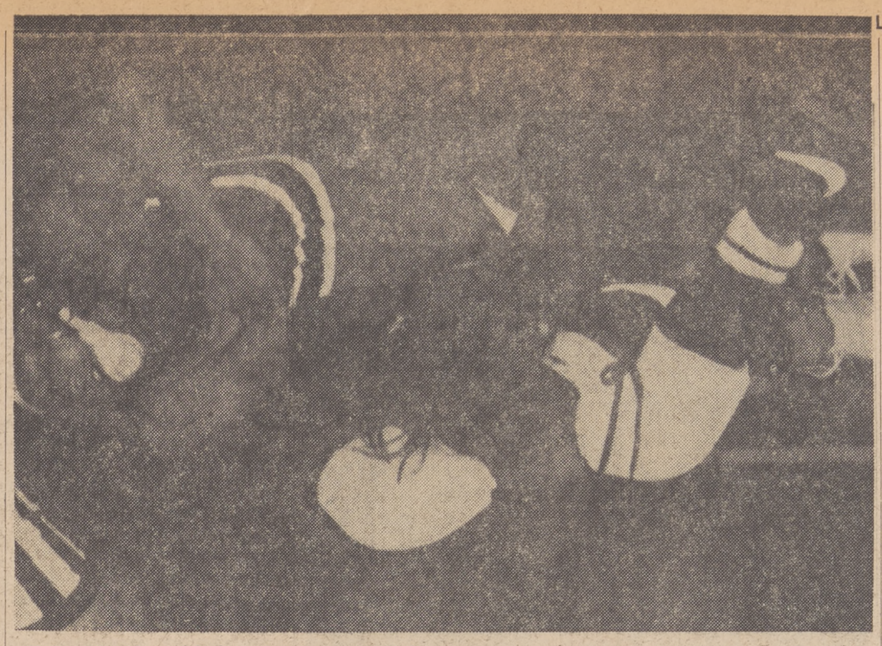
Griffs Win Pair Of Hoop Thrillers

The Grossmont Griffin basketball team, after playing a poor Christmas vacation schedule, returned to open the Mission Conference season with a pair of cliffhanger wins.

Down by a single point as the game drew to a close against Palomar, the Griffs claimed victory as John Slater canned a ten-foot jump shot at the buzzer. The score was 65-64.

Saddleback College was the next opponent for the Griffs and was rated stronger than Palomar. But, again, a basket in the closing seconds, this time by reserve guard John Bowland, gave the Griffs a 74-72 decision.

The undefeated conference record for Grossmont was not expected to last long, as Southwestern invaded the Griffin gym Wednesday night as heavy favorites. That game was played after press time.



PIN — Mt. Miguel lightweight wrestler John Siscon uses a head scissors hold as he tries to maneuver his opponent into position for a pin in last Friday's wrestling match against Grossmont High School. Siscon pinned the Grossmont grappler after 3 minutes and 27 seconds of action to help Mt. Miguel take a 33-27 victory. Mt. Miguel will visit Monte Vista tomorrow night at 8 p.m. in a match which could decide the league championship. (John Jones photo)

Monte Vista Favored

Monarch Wrestlers To Host Mount Miguel in Showdown

The showdown match is all set as the top two teams in the Grossmont League won tune-up matches Friday and will meet tomorrow night for the one that will decide the Grossmont League crown.

Tomorrow night's "biggie" will be at Monte Vista High School when the underdog Mt. Miguel wrestling team takes on the Monte Vista Monarchs at 8 p.m.

Monte Vista, now 2-0 on the league, tuned-up for the match by whipping Granite Hills, 40-12, in a match that was closer than the score indicated.

Monte Vista picked up three pins while the Eagles scored one, but the Eagles won two decisions easily while Monte Vista had to fight for seven others.

At Grossmont, meanwhile, the name of the wrestling game was pin as Mt. Miguel pinned four Foothillers, Grossmont pinned three Matadors, and the margin of victory for Mt. Miguel was six points — the number of points awarded for a pin.

Mt. Miguel was impressive in the light weights and middle weights, opening with a pin and decision before Grossmont battled back to tie it with a pin and decision.

In the middles, Mt. Miguel made the 'Hillers look hilarious with three pins and a pair of decisions to take a 33-9 lead. The last laugh almost went to Grossmont as the 'Hillers claimed two pins and two decisions to end the match. Had all four bouts been pins, the match would have been a tie.

Tomorrow night's match should be a good one as Mt. Miguel's Dan Allen, who missed last week's contest, is expected to be back and ready to go. Allen, who is a sure three points for Mt. Miguel and a good bet for a pin, will get a fair bout.

The Monarchs are an excellent team through the middle weights, where Mt. Miguel also showed strength last week.

Although Monte Vista is heavily favored to take the match, Mt. Miguel could surprise with a few upsets in the middle weights. The Matadors will need pins from Miguel Cesena and Dan Allen, must allow the Monarchs no more than one pin, and must claim at least three upset decisions to upend the Monarchy.

Registration On Tap For SV Little League

Registration for youngsters within the boundaries of the Spring Valley Little League who would like to play baseball this spring have been scheduled for January 27, February 3, and February 10.

Boys must be between the ages of eight and 12 years and must bring a birth certificate or other proof of age.

The registfation will take place from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day at the little league field on Sweetwater lane.

Sign-Ups Saturday

The Spring Valley Bobby Sox League will have its second round of registration for all girls from 9 to 15 years old Saturday at the Spring Valley Shopping Center from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Birth certificates or other proof of age must be presented.

People interested in helping the league may volunteer for different jobs or in being on the board of directors should attend a meeting Jan. 17 at the Bancroft Elementary School from 7 to 9 p.m.

For further information call Norma Whitley 460-0936 or Mona Shoemaker 469-4748.

Atlas Wins Tenth Soccer Loop Match

Unbeaten and untied Atlas United continued atop the Division III Suburban Soccer League standing last week by beating the fifth place Roadrunners, while the Rascals kept a firm hold on first place in Division IV by knocking off the fourth place Chargers.

Atlas United's 2-0 whitewash of the Roadrunners marked the tenth victory in as many games for Atlas, while the Rascals' 2-1 win over the Chargers was the eighth win in nine tries for the team.

In other Division II action, the second place Lions kept pace with a 3-1 decision of the Razorbacks, the third place Hawks stayed in the race with a 6-0 smashing of the cellar-dwelling Royals, and the fourth place Continentals were upset by the Raiders, 2-0. The Raiders used the victory to move from a tie for sixth place to a tie for fifth place.

In other Division IV matches, the Cues topped the Braves, 6-0, to retain second place, just one point ahead of the third place Rippers, who edged the Colts, 2-1. The Pros moved into fourth place ahead of the Chargers by virtue of a 4-0 blanking of the last place Monarchs, while the Playboys stopped the Marauders, 2-0.

In the prep division, the Kings topped the Crusaders, 10-0; the Torinos belted the

Ali Will Fight Norton in San Diego

by Max Goodwin

Would a fight in San Diego between heavyweight ex-champ Muhammad Ali and San Diego's 8th ranking Kenny Norton make business sense?

That answer is embedded deeply in a mixture of business judgment and the drive to showcase athletes of varying ability.

While sports is big business, business principles are not always the criteria in sports.

In a strictly business sense, men fight over a $2 mistake.

In the business of fun and games, they shrug off a couple of million.

Witness Lennie Bloom and his determination to sink $20 million in an arena in Chula Vista for his basketball team because of a comparatively small variance in rent by Sports Arena operator Peter Graham.

Witness the willingness of Buzzie Bavasi and Arnholt Smith to suffer $750,000 a year loss after the City of San Diego agreed to overcome the team owners' resistance to a couple of signboards in the Stadium.

Witness a newcomer on the scene—C. E. "Lee" Fruin, head of a business investment group, who told sportscasters and sportswriters Monday that sizeable investments would be made in sports promotions in San Diego. He was accompanied by Lou Lake, who brought life and style to the Coliseum in San Diego with a variety of cards.

The Lake and Fruin group are jointly promoting the Joe Frazier-George Foreman fight January 22 in a closed circuit television presentation at the Sports Arena.

It was indicated that the investment group would promote various types of sports events—such as track meets—but Lake is the important cog in the wheel of the syndicate's boxing acting so it is likely the emphasis will be on boxing.

Fruin sidestepped specific answers to future fight shows here—in the land where boxing has grown only in the size of the shellacking taken by "fresh money" interests.

While Fruin was talking about sports investment opportunities, Lake was telling a small group at a luncheon table about free admission amateur fights he is planning at the Coliseum each Friday night starting next week.

Not diversionary, necessarily, but neither of the men tipped a business secret.

The secret: Muhammad Ali will fight Ken Norton in San Diego's Stadium on Saturday night of March 31.

Oh, there'll be some denials and double-talking, but that's what is scheduled. Ali-Norton on March 31. Remember the date!

Indoor Games On February Schedule

The San Diego Indoor Games, known for world record performances by some of the world's top track athletes, will be run February 17, in the San Diego Sports Arena, Meet Director Tony Sucec announced.

The seventh annual event, co-sponsored by the San Diego Track Club and San Diego State University, will feature afternoon and evening sessions this year as in the past.

The afternoon session will run from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. and feature some of the top college, open, junior college, women and San Diego high school athletes. The evening session will start at 7:30 p.m. with the 60 yard dash and conclude around 10:30 with the 2-mile run. Top international and Olympic stars will participate in the evening session and names of the participants will be forthcoming.

Prices for the meet are $4.50, $5.50 and $5.60 which includes parking and is good for both the afternoon and evening sessions. Special tickets good for just the afternoon session are $2.

Norman Rockwell Art To Be Exhibited At Lemon Grove Library

Norman Rockwell, American artist, will be the subject of an exhibit at the Lemon Grove Library during the month of January. Included in the exhibit will be prints of his paintings, "Birthday Party", "Right To Know", and "Norman Rockwell Visits a Country Editor".

Rockwell, one of the most popular of all American Artists, is particularly noted for his unique depictions of everyday life situations.

A special feature of the exhibit is the book "Norman Rockwell", a particularly fine example of quality printing and binding.

The Lemon Grove Library is located at 7735 Pacific ave., phone 463-5982.

Monte Vista Rally Dumps Granite Hills

Monte Vista High School's basketball team, although playing poorly in the first few outings in the preseason, has proven itself after claiming a hard fought 65-55 decision over the visiting Granite Hills Eagles.

The game was a good battle from the very beginning as Granite Hills kept pace with the running game offered by the defense-minded Monarchs.

After falling behind 11-9 after the first stanza, the Monarchs loosened up a bit and tied the score four times before falling behind by four, 31-27 at halftime.

The Eagles opened with the first bucket in the third quarter, but Monte Vista then reeled off ten straight points to take a lead that was never relinquished.

Monte Vista continued to blister the nets during the fourth quarter, but the flu-strickened team seemed to slow down near the end of the game, when the Eagles trimmed the Monarch margin to five points with five seconds remaining.

Monte Vista was scheduled to take on El Capitan Tuesday night at El Cap and will be on the road again tomorrow night against Mt. Miguel in what should be a good battle. The Monarchs will then face El Cajon at Monte Vista next Tuesday afternoon.

Mt. Miguel, one of the toughest teams on its home court, is expected to battle with Monte Vista and Grossmont for second place in the Grossmont League this season. Tipoff is at 8 p.m.

Gulls Lose Noris Play Oilers Sat.

The San Diego Gulls begin the second half of the 1972-73 WHL season tonight when the club travels to Phoenix to battle the Roadrunners. Broadcast time over KOGO Radio with John Brooks is 6:45. The following evening Salt Lake will be the opposition in the Utah city (6:15 airtime) and then it is back home on Saturday against the Tulsa Oilers.

After 36 games the Gulls are 15-15-6 and in third place, one point away from second place Phoenix. That makes the Thursday game against the Roadrunners a big one for Jack Evans and his Wild Bunch.

Following the game last Saturday against the Denver Spurs, it was announced that defenseman Joe Noris had been involved in a trade with St. Louis (NHL). Noris had been the property of the Pittsburgh Penguins. The Pittsburgh organization sent Noris to the St. Louis Blues in exchange for left wing Jim Shires of the Denver Spurs, the farm team of the Blues. General manager Max McNab is seeking a replacement — possibly a center.

The next home opposition for the San Diego Gulls, the Tulsa Oilers of the Central Hockey League, started off this season as the weak link of the CHL. But the last 10 games have been something else for the young Oilers and they are making a strong bid to become the team to beat in their four team league.

Tulsa has a 8-0-2 record in their last ten games and going into action this week the Oilers are 13-16-6 in the CHL and tied for second place. They will visit Portland and Seattle before coming to the Sports Arena on Saturday. Faceoff is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Dinner, Talk With Lawmakers On Tap

Dinner and an informal discussion for the La Mesa Chamber of Commerce with members of the California State Legislature is scheduled January 19 at Grossmont Gardens, 5480 Marengo ave., La Mesa.

Rita Hartwell, Chairman of the Legislative Committee, announced that guests will be Assemblyman Wadie Deddeh, John Stull and Bob Wilson.

Topics for disussion are being formulated by the Legislative Committee and will be of specific interest to the citizens of the Heartland area.

The dinner, sponsored by the La Mesa Chamber, will start with a social hour at 6 p.m. and dinner at 7. Reservations are open to the public and may be made by calling the chamber office at 465-7700.

READY, CHIEF — Deputy Sheriff Danny Goodrich and his dog, Chief, would show this pose to a criminal caught on their beat in the Lemon Grove or Spring Valley area. San Diego County deputy sheriffs' dogs are owned by each officer who receives extra pay for the care and maintenance of his dependable and well-trained partner. The dogs create good community relations through people asking officers about them. Organized groups may arrange for demonstrations by calling Deputy Jerry Menezes at 236-2957.

'Pooch Patrol' Aids With Local Law Enforcement

"A buddy you can always depend on" is how Jerry Menezes describes them. Danny Goodrich adds, "And with a nose for keeping you out of trouble."

The San Diego County deputy sheriffs were talking about those magnificent German shepherds often seen riding in the Sheriff's patrol cars. Sixteen of the dogs are currently in active service; four are veterans of the original contingment which began duty in 1968. Although they primarily patrol in the unincorporated areas, they are available on call anywhere within the county if needed.

Menezes gave some background information on the dogs.

"Each of us owns our dog, which is not necessarily German shepherd, but right now all just happen to be of that breed.

"The County pays us an additional $30 a month for the care and maintenance of the dogs we use while in the Patrol Division. Training for personal protection, obedience, and special methods take about four months for both the dog and deputy."

Lieutenant Frank Hill of the Patrol Division, currently in charge of the El Cajon office, has the additional duty of canine coordinator. If he determines that a deputy and his dog are acceptable for training, he authorizes County funds to be paid for the course at Fon-Jon Kennels in Pacific Beach.

Goodrich, who patrols a Lemon Grove beat with his dog Chief, said that the police dogs serve multiple purposes.

"One deputy with his dog usually can handle an unruly crowd," he said. "A dog, with his acute sense of smell, is invaluable for searching buildings suspected of being burglarized. As a general deterrent, a dog seems to be what criminals fear most."

Menezes added, "But what is perhaps a police canine's most important asset is the people contact he creates. Wherever a deputy goes with his dog, people are drawn to ask questions and want to pet the dog.

"Because of the superb training, the dogs are usually amiable and welcome petting. As with any strange animal, however, it's always better to ask the owner first."

The people contact, according to Menezes, is the best public relations tool policemen have. The beautiful, well-mannered dogs seem always to elicit a positive response from otherwise hostile or aloof citizens. Unseen barriers fall and the deputy is able to establish a rapport with people which is otherwise not attainable.

"Remember, though," Menezes said, "a police dog alone in a car is very possessive. It's best to avoid any dog of any kind left alone in a car. By nature, they will defend the auto as their territory."

Sheriff John Duffy, proud of the patrol dogs, has given Menezes the assignment of arranging for organized groups to see the dogs perform. Demonstrations may be arranged by calling Menezes at 236-2957.

Criswell's Predictions At Southwestern

Dr. Jeron King Criswell, known as "Criswell," who claims to "see into the future," will speak at Southwestern College tonight at 8 p.m. in Mayan Hall.

Not claiming to be a prophet — or a psychic with some extraordinary gift — Criswell has stated for over a quarter of a century: "My predictions are not written to win me literary attention . . . I am not sure I know what all of them mean. Some are frighteningly explicit . . . others too vague or symbolic. All are based on conscious study and subconscious realizations that come from where I do not know."

Millions of Americans are becoming more and more convinced that his flamboyant words foretell the future with alarming accuracy.

Criswell has appeared on the Merv Griffin, Mike Douglas and Johnny Carson T.V. talk shows.

Admission for the lecture is $1 and tickets may be purchased at the theatre box office prior to Criswell's lecture.

Del Mar Futurity For Two-Year Olds Stretched to a Mile

DEL MAR — In a move to add further importance to the already prestigious Del Mar Futurity and Del Mar Debuteante, both 2-year-old classics will be run at the more demanding one mile distance on the main track beginning in 1974, it was announced by Thomas M. Hamilton, president of the Del Mar Thoroughbred Club. Del Mar's 1973 season opens July 25 and closes Sept. 12.

The $60,000 added Futurity, which has grossed more than $100,000 for its past three runnings, will be contested at seven and one-half furlongs on the grass for the last time in 1972. It was moved to that distance and footing in 1971, with MacArthur Park and D. B. Carm winning split divisions of the stake. Groshawk was the victor last season.

As for Debutante, it has been run at six furlongs on the dirt since its inception in 1951 and will remain at that distance until the one mile condition prevails in 1974. And in recognition of the Debutante's new stature, the track will offer $50,000 in added money, an increase of $10,000 for its 1974 renewal. This will enable the filly fixture to approach the $100,000 gross figure.

It was felt the increased distance will not work a hardship on 2-year-olds inasmuch as these races are not run until mid-September for the Futurity and Labor Day for the Debutante.

Joyal Heads Business Committee For March Of Dimes Campaign

Richard L. Joyal, treasurer of the Coca Cola Bottling Company of San Diego, has been appointed to head the Business and Industry Committee for the 1973 March of Dimes drive on birth defects.

Joyal is among the many San Diego-Imperial volunteers who are giving time and energy to the fund raising appeal, according to Sheriff John F. Duffy, campaign chairman.

"Business and industry leaders show increasing interest in March of Dimes health education projects throughout the year," Joyal said. "Their financial contributions have strengthened the March of Dimes programs but more help is needed if we hope to win the battle against birth defects."

GENERAL MANAGER—The San Diego Ballet Association today announced that Marie Moneen has been selected to the newly created position of general manager of the San Diego Ballet Company. Miss Moneen has extensive experience in management, advertising and public relations. She trained in ballet, voice and dramatic arts and is well known in Southern California as a professional actress, singer and announcer/narrator for radio and television.

Driver Class Offered For Spanish Speakers

Driver education for Spanish speaking adults is now in session at El Cajon Adult School, 1035 Madison ave., El Cajon.

Both classroom lecture and behind-the-wheel instruction is conducted in Spanish.

Students may still enroll in Tuesday evenings in Room 120. Driving fee is $10 for the course. For information call El Cajon Adult office after 1 p.m. at 442-2401.

Senior Citizen Center Slated By SCFNB

The Board of Directors of Southern California First National Bank has approved a proposal to found a centrally located clearinghouse for San Diego senior citizens, according to Angelo Adams, SCFNB president.

The Senior Citizen Center, to be located in Centre City, is scheduled to open in early spring, Adams said.

"San Diego is the only major west coast city which lacks a comprehensive multi-service center for senior citizens," he said. "The Board feels that Southern California First National Bank is in a unique position as the largest and oldest bank in San Diego to initiate and become the catalyst for alleviating the human misery and isolation that exists among our elderly."

"It is not the bank's intent to operate the new Senior Citizen Center as the sole benefactor. The problem is a massive one requiring the support and cooperation of the entire community. We hope to act as a catalyst to get the program started and to actively solicit funds, volunteers and services from the overall community."

Among the objectives of the proposed Senior Citizen Center will be to coordinate and disseminate information to the elderly regarding existing governmental and private resources available to them.

The center will be operated by the San Diego Kind Corp., a non-profit corporation. A building in central San Diego is being sought to headquarter the operation. The center will also provide some key advisory and supportive services in health care, medicine and legal matters.

LAW COORDINATOR — Mrs. Jane E. Clark has been named coordinator of the San Diego Regional Criminal planning system. A supervising probation officer for the past 16 years, she will coordinate all parts of the criminal justice system involving all 13 cities, the county, law enforcement, courts, corrections, the bar, and citizen participation.

Atlas United Wins

Rebels, 8-0; Sparta topped Loma Villa, 7-1; and Azteca trumped the Kingmen, 10-3.

Saturday's matches will see the Rascals in an easy one against the Colts at 9:30 a.m. and the Rippers and Cues battling for second place at 12:30 p.m. in Division IV. Division III will include the Hawks challenging Atlas United at 9:30 a.m. at Monte Vista High School. All Division IV games will be at Sunset Park in La Mesa.

S.D..G &E. To Sponsor Consumer Action Forum

What can you do besides fume when something goes wrong with a major appliance and you can't get it fixed?

Consumers who have faced the problem or who may face it will have an opportunity to learn the answer at a public forum of the Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel in San Diego February 2.

The admission-free program, sponsored by San Diego Gas & Electric Company, will be in the International Room of El Cortez Hotel from 9:30 a.m. to noon. Mary Means, SDG&E consumer affairs counselor, will moderate the discussion.

Heading the panel of outstanding consumer advocates will be Dr. Virginia F. Cutler, panel chairman and former head of the Department of Family Economics at Brigham Young University, Provo, Utah.

Other participants will be Dr. Mary Purchase, associate professor, Department of Design and Environmental Analysis, New York State College of Human Ecology; Mrs. Virginia T. Habeeb, of New York City, a free-lance consultant in home economics and former home economics writer, editor and teacher; Dr. Jason C. Annis, assistant professor of mechanical engineering at Kansas State University and the first engineer-educator named to MACAP.

Also on the panel are Dr. Elsie Fetterman, family economics specialist, Cooperative Extension Service, University of Connecticut; Frederick E. Waddell, president, Consumer Program Consultants, Inc., Columbia, Maryland, and Robert F. Longenecker, director of the Georgia Consumer Services Program.

Representatives of the American Gas Association and the Underwriters Laboratories will be present to discuss appliance standards.

Mrs. Means said the MACAP program will include discussions about the handling of consumer complaints, rights and responsibilities, what to do when something goes wrong with a major appliance, and how MACAP represents consumer interest to the appliance industry.

We have found in our consumer affairs program at San Diego Gas & Electric Company that these are matters of major concern to consumers," Mrs. Means said.

"Often consumers feel helpless and frustrated when confronted with major appliance problems because they do not know what action can be taken or to whom they can turn for help. The MACAP program and our consumer affairs activities are directed toward improving that condition."

The Major Appliance Consumer Action Panel is widely recognized as a top consumer watchdog in the major appliance industry. It was formed in April 1970 by three appliance industry trade organizations to represent consumer views and to advise and counsel the industry with special attention to consumer complaints . Independent of the sponsoring groups, the panel speaks for the consumer to the industry at the highest levels of management.

Mrs. Cutler said MACAP has resolved 3,650 of nearly 5,000 consumer complaints that it has studied during the past two years. More than 1,100 complaints are currently being processed.

Illegal gambling operators in New York City gross more than $1.7 billion a year, according to a study.

College Opportunity Deadline Approaches

The California State Scholarship and Loan Commission reminded high school seniors that the postmark deadline date for the filing of College Opportunity Grant applications is January 18.

College Opportunity Grants are primarily for disadvantaged students who plan to initiate their college education at a public community college.

New grants are to be awarded to students who generally, though not exclusively, are minority and come from low income families and who are not necessarily able to obtain scholarships by the use of conventional selection methods.

Dinner is Fund Raiser

The Heartland YMCA in La Mesa has scheduled a family spaghetti dinner for Monday evening, 5 p.m. to 8:30 p.m. at the "Y".

The dinner, which is open to the public for $1 per plate, will be used as a fund raiser to send four local youngsters to the 25th annual YMCA Youth and Government Model Legislature February 1 to 4 in Sacramento.

Included among the students are Patti Duff of Monte Vista High and Chris Visconti of Mt. Miguel. Each must raise $150.

Democrats to Fete M. Larry Lawrence

A testimonial dinner for M Larry Lawrence retiring chair man of the S. California Democratic Party will be held Sunday in the Crown Room at Hotel del Coronado.

Among those who will pay tribute to Lawrence are: U. S. Congressman Lionel Van Deerlin, U. S. Senators Alan Cranston and John Tunney, and State Senators James Mills, George Moscone and Mervyn Dymally.

Also Assemblymen Bob Moretti, Wadie Deddeh, Bob Wilson, Larry Kapiloff, Peter Chacon, Charles Warren, and Harry Waxman.

Secretary of State Edmund G. Brown, Jr.; Richard Nevins, former chairman of the Board of Equalization; Carmen Warschaw, former Democratic National Committeewoman and Madale Watson, southern treasurer of the state party, will also attend.

Charles Manatt, state chairman of the Democratic Party will be master of ceremonies. The event is open to the public.

'Ladybug' Showing Planned in Grove

Volkswagen sales boomed in December — registering a 42.6% increase against the same month a year ago.

New car sales in December reached 38,511 units.

A new, local dealer, capitalizing on the Volkswagen's popularity is the John Factor Volkswagen at Broadway and College in Lemon Grove.

The dealership has been open only seven months and "we've increased our unit sales every month," Factor said.

"Girls love the beetle," he said. "Later this month we're going to unveil our concept of the "ladybug". It'll be a Volkswagen with an exotic paint coloration and boasting such feminine niceties as a cosmetic compartment, a glove drawer, and fancy interior trim."

Factor said when the ladybug is shown there'll be orchids for the girls, and refreshments. There'll be drawings for wardrobes and a trip to Hawaii.

He said Barbara Kotnik, Miss Lemon Grove, would be on hand to handle the showing and drawing.

Ty Cobb played in nearly 3,000 baseball games.

L.G. Youth Center Interest Kept Alive by Contributions

Interest remains strong for keeping the Lemon Grove Youth Center open, it was shown this week as local families express their determination to help.

The Center was closed just prior to the holidays and so far there has been no indication that it would reopen.

A Lemon Grove businessman, Morey Feldman, made a sizeable contribution, investigated the possibilities, and wrote the County Board of Supervisors regarding aid for the facility on School lane. In response, Supervisors agreed to look at the Center's problems early this year.

The Center had been open two days a week — Friday afternoon and Saturday all day — to give local youngsters something better than hanging around on the streets.

The Center had been kept open mainly by contributions from the Lemon Grove Kiwanis and Soroptimist clubs, and from contributions from private individuals.

It was operated by a board comprised of Len Farness, Verna Quinn, Linda Myers and Karen Thompson. Farness, spokesman for the group said. the County, "has been more than fair. It has adjusted the rental to an amount we can live with.

"What is needed," Farness said, "is a funded budget that will allow the Center to operate without having to scrounge to keep open and to provide programs."

Mrs. Randolph Morse, a long-time Lemon Grove resident, was a generous contributor to the Center's operational fund this week.

She reminded that the early history of the Center was lost when the premises on which the records were kept was flooded.

A few local residents formed the original Youth Center group. They had a drive and obtained $2,000 in pledges and were off to a good start, she recalled.

Meettings were held in Mrs. Morse's Golden ave. home. She was secretary and her deceased husband was trasurer. The director of the County Parks and Recreation Department attended the gatherings. Most of the time was utilized thinking up ways to earn money — a mile of pennies laid on the pavement was an example, she said.

Those who participated recently in the subscription activity by which 50 cents for each is given to the Center, continues.

PacTel Plans to Spend $3½ Million in E. County

An enlarged La Mesa directory assistance office and increasing the telephone capacity of a La Mesa equipment office are among plans of Pacific Telephone's 1973 building program in the East County.

William E. Quirk, vice president and general manager for PacTel's six southernmost counties, said his company plans to spend about $2¾ million in the East County area this year to improve communication facilities.

Although the construction program for the East County is an ambitious one, Quirk said it reflected a company announcement in mid-1972 that it would slash its statewide construction budget the next three years because of "financial reversals."

PacTel's financial problems, he said, stem from the company's inability to earn a 7.85 per cent rate of return authorized by the California Public Utilities Commission.

Quirk said that remodeling a directory assistance office on 72nd street in La Mesa which will include the addition of more dial switching equipment will come roughly to $135,000.

An equipment office on Spring st. will house $324,000 in switching equipment that will boost the telephone capacity of that office by roughly 10,000 phones by late summer.

The bulk of the expenditure will be for equipment and facilities serving the Lakeside, Alpine, El Cajon and La Mesa communities.

The company's annual payroll to its 7,000-plus employees in the county makes it a "major contributing force" to the county economy.

SV Man Held In Alleged Gun Threat

A Spring Valley man was arrested and charged with threatening with a deadly weapon last week after he allegedly pointed a 12 guage shotgun at a National City man.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the victim in the case reported that he was leaving the parking lot of an apartment building at 3536 Bancroft dr., Spring Valley, when the suspect's car pulled into the lot, the suspect got out, retrieved a shotgun from the trunk of the vehicle and pointed it at him.

The victim told deputies that he immediately ducked down in his car and sped out of the parking lot. When deputies arrived the suspect was still standing in the parking lot. He was identified as Larry A. Ross, 23, of 3536 Bancroft dr., Apt. B, Spring Valley. He was transported to County Jail.

LAFCO To Hear Plan

Bob Russell, chairman of that organization, is currently securing letters of support from the various service clubs in town.

The service area was originally requested by the planning association, but poor attendance at recent meetings have squelched organization of support by individual members of the community through the association.

James Dorman, chairman of the association said that he hopes for a good crowd at tonight's meeting so that the association can determine how much the park is wanted by the community.

All local citizens who wish to express support for the project can either attend the meeting of the planning association tonight, attend the LAFCO hearing Monday, or write a letter to LAFCO to the attention of S. M. Schmidt, executive officer, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, 92101.

The planning association will meet at 7:30 p.m. at the auditorium at Golden Avenue Elementary School, corner of Golden ave. and School lane.

Last Chance For Faucher Retirement Dinner Tickets

Few tickets remain for the retirement dinner being given for Lemon Grove Postmaster Francis "Frenchy" Faucher and his wife. They served at the Post Office 23 years.

The dinner is Sunday at 3:30 p.m. at the Elks Lodge, 1400 no-host cocktail hour precedes E. Washington, El Cajon. A no-host cocktail hour will precede the dinner. Dancing will follow it. Dinner will wait for the conclusion of the Super Bowl game which will be on color teevee at the lodge.

What tickets are available may be obtained from Nate Hale, Lemon Grove assistant postmaster by calling 466-3263. Tickets are $5.25 which includes tax and tip.

About 200 persons are expected to attend.

Crusade Funds Still Coming, Chairmen Say

Lemon Grove and Spring Valley contributions from business firms and residents for the United Crusade are still being received, according to the community chairmen.

In a statement, Lemon Grove chairman Robert Guest, of the United States National Bank, said "All community chairmen throughout San Diego County were asked to stay on board for several weeks after the final report of December 13. This measure was deemed necessary to make a final clean-up of all outstanding accounts which could not be handled during the campaign months."

Spring Valley Chairman Alex Struthers is also in a clean-up campaign and is asking anyone who was not contacted by the Crusade and still wishes to contribute to mail his gift to Post Office Box 1402, Spring Valley. The Lemon Grove Post Office Box is AH.

Contributions may also be delivered to Guest at the bank, 7946 Broadway, Lemon Grove, and Struthers at the Otay Municipal Water District office, 10595 Jamacha rd., Spring Valley.

Lodge Celebrates Tenth Anniversary

Scandinavian Lodge, Pacific Southwest District 15, Vasa Order of America, celebrated its tenth birthday at the Women's Club in La Mesa.

Smorgasbord was served after an "attitude adjustment" hour was enjoyed in the Scandinavian Yule time spirit. The club house and banquet tables were decorated by Florence Lyon.

Chairman Lyle Giarde recognized past chairmen who were present: Bob Christy, Olaf Holm, Bill Spruner, Don Nelsen, Gus Lorenz, Alma Berquist, and Helge Erickson.

Giarde, along with Willard Spruner, District Master, and Executive Board member Andy Wondell, presented Axel Gustafson, a charter member, with his 50 year pin. Axel came to Scandinavian Lodge from the East coast.

Experimental Program Means Work for Deaf

Criminalist Bob Ekhaml of the San Diego County Sheriff's Office is a compassionate young man with a special interest in the deaf. Through his efforts, the County has begun the exploration of a new field of talent by hiring three deaf student workers.

The three young people, forerunners of what Ekhaml hopes will be a new and lasting trend, prepare offender records for microfilming and perform general clerical and administrative duties in the Sheriff's Personnel Records Office. All three students are also typists.

Cindy Stafford of Grantville is a student in electronic data processing at Riverside City College, Donna Holson of La Mesa is enrolled in data processing at Coleman College, and Jim Keily of La Jolla just received a degree in Business Administration from the University of San Diego.

"People usually learn to work with the deaf, learn sign language, either because someone in their family is deaf or for religious purposes," Ekhaml said. "Seeing the students at nearby Gallaudet College in Washington sparked my interest. I learned to communicate, then devoted my spare time assisting the chaplain at Gallaudet.

"Working with and teaching deaf persons is a two-way learning experience. In order to function in a hearing world, the deaf need the self-confidence of experience and the non-handicapped also benefit from the association."

Ekhaml reported that interpreters are not necessary in communicating with non-hearing people. Among the comments from fellow workers were, "They've been fantastic to work with," and "How fortunate we are to see them work — almost overwork — and they are so highly motivated."

Ekhaml said that he hopes the input of deaf student workers will continue and that for a long-range goal a substantial number can be hired through regular County Civil Service channels.

Ekhaml serves as Treasurer for the Southern California Registry of Interpreters for the Deaf. He taught sign language at Patrick Henry High School last year as part of the Adult Education Program.

Tommy Stark, Chaplin Film Top Program

Tommy Stark, internationally-known organist, will present a special winter holiday show Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Southland Music Center, 3459 Imperial ave., Lemon Grove.

Stark, a local businessman and entertainer, has traveled extensively throughout the United States and Canada with Xavier Cugat. In addition he has entertained locally at the old Harbor House, the River Valley Golf Club, The Chateaubriand, the posh Elario's Restaurant in the Summerhouse Inn, La Jolla and currently at the King Louis Inn.

The special winter holiday program will include pop organ music, a community singalong and the silent comedy short "The Adventurer" starring Charlie Chaplin.

In "The Adventurer" Chaplin, as an escaped convict eluding prison guards via the beach, happens on two drowning ladies. As a reward for their rescue he becomes their house guest.

Tickets are available at the box office the evening of the performance or by phone at 463-0308. Reservations for the program are recommended.

Petitions Presented To School Board

Cajon Valley High School, reported to the board on the council's feelings toward Valhalla.

The council, he said, supported the board's position on building the schools. He reported that 75% of the council's representatives had approved of the board's method.

Bill Davis, representing the Grossmont Administration Association, also made a presentation in support of the board.

In other action, trustees set a date of April 17 for an election of trustees to the board. Three seats will be up for election. Applications for candidates are available at the office of the registrar of voters and must be filed no later than February 16.

which will get underway at 7:30 p.m. in the board of education office.

Nutrition Plan Study Gets OK

"meals on wheels" program and congregate feeding will be studied. A "meals on wheels" program would call for central preparation of food with volunteers delivering the meals to senior citizens who are not mobile.

Congregate feeding would call for senior citizens who are able to travel to a central location being fed on much the same operation as for the school lunch program.

Helping in the study will be the Lemon Grove Soroptimist club and the County Office of Senior Citizen Affairs. If it is decided to apply for the grant, either the Soroptimist Club or the school district would operate the program with help from the other.

It would be probable that the school district would provide facilities and food preparation personnel and the club provide volunteer drivers and other help.

In a final item of note, trustees approved an agreement which would allow the district to join a "league of federally aided school districts" which would be an alliance of districts which receive federal funds.

Dr. Robert Sutton, superintendent of the district, reported to the board that districts working independently in the past in communicating needs to Congress have been ineffective. He said that the alliance would allow districts to join in concerted action to work with federal agencies.
